PAMA ADVISORY BOARD

Brandon Corazza is a Collections Specialist who enjoys operating behind the scenes. He has a background in art history, curation, collections management, and experience working with both fine art and museum collections.

Brandon's career has developed around a balance between his penchant for practical, hands-on skills and an academic interest in diverse artistic practices and material culture. Often rambling about object safety and proper practices, he has enjoyed helping private collectors, curators, artists, and his own family and friends, develop and execute their ideas practically and professionally.

Brandon currently works in a registration capacity, overseeing the care, cataloguing and installation of a private corporate art collection in Toronto. Born and raised in Brampton, he is now focused on bringing his skills and knowledge into his own community.
